

CHOOSE 6 HOURS

- ❖ HPRB 3050S Service learning in health promotion
 - ❖ HPRB 4180 Health promotion abroad: aging
- OR
- ❖ HPRB 7500 Community health promotion
 - ❖ HPRB 8050: Advanced service learning in health promotion: aging

Study community health at Kumamoto University alongside Japanese students.

Participate in service learning practicum in rural seaside Japan.

Meet public and local officials to discuss the impact of aging on rural communities.

Study program planning differences in diverse cultures.

Understand the role of the environment in health protection.

Discuss social issues of aging and aging in Japan.

Visit the seashore, Shinto shrines, and Kumamoto Castle.

KUMAMOTO UNIVERSITY

Based in Kumamoto, Japan we will study and travel with graduate students from Kumamoto University.

While living in the city of Amakusa, studies will focus on community health issues and program planning.

All classes conducted in English.

UGA Study Abroad In Japan

For more information visit:

Goabroad.uga.edu
or publichealth.uga.edu

Contact Information:

Dr. Jessica Muilenburg
jlm@uga.edu
or Dr. Katie Darby Hein
khein@uga.edu

Study Abroad in KUMAMOTO ◦ JAPAN ◦

UGA
College of Public Health
Second session summer (July)