College of Public Health
Pre-Collegiate Summer Institute

EXAMPLE APPLICATION-Answers must be submitted on-line

The College of Public Health (CPH) Pre-Collegiate Summer Institute (PCSI) is a one-week residential summer program for rising high school seniors. PCSI is designed to increase the readiness of high-achieving students from diverse backgrounds, to enter college at the University of Georgia (UGA) in public health or related programs. The summer institute will give students an opportunity to learn about a range of academic programs and career paths in public health while providing exposure to UGA and tips and tools necessary for success in college and beyond. PCSI will provide exposure to the core areas of public health, including epidemiology, biostatistics, health promotion and behavior, environmental health sciences, and health policy and management.

PCSI will run from Sunday, July 8th through Saturday, July 14th and students accepted into the program must be present for all program dates.

A completed program application includes the on-line application submitted through the website and your official high school transcript. See below for transcript submission options.

Deadlines

1.) On-line application: You must submit the on-line portion by 11:59 p.m. EST on Friday, May 11th.

2.) Official High School Transcript: The deadline for e-mailed transcripts is Friday, May 11th at 11:59 p.m. EST. If you choose to send your transcript via postal mail, it must be post-marked no later than Friday, May 11th.
